Medical Informatics Admission Information

Step 1. Submit your application to the college. After submitting your application to the college, you will receive a "R" number.

Step 2. Log into Raidernet to complete the Health Sciences Interest form. Indicate your interest in being admitted to the Medical Informatics (HIM) program no later than October 31 for spring term admission and May 15 for fall term admission. You may indicate your interest in 3 health science degree programs. You should designate which program is your first area of interest, second area of interest, and third area of interest. You may be considered for admission to any of the 3 health science programs you designated as an area of interest.

Step 3. Declare AS Pre-Allied Health as your major. If you have not already declared AS Pre-Allied Health as your major, you should change your major. This will best prepare you for admission to a Health Science program.

Medical Informatics Admission Information

Step 6. Top 15 ranked candidates will be offered admission to the program. Students accepted to the Medical Informatics Program will choose from the Developer or Technician Track. Applicants offered admission will be notified via an "Alert" in Raidernet and must accept or decline their admission within 1 week. After one week, the "Alert" will disappear. Failure to respond may result in the applicant forfeiting their selection for admission. Applicants not offered admission will need to resubmit the area of interest form the following year. If you are offered admission to a program, you must accept or decline admission to that program. If you decline admission, you may then be considered for admission to another program.
