Articulation allows high school students who have achieved an A or B in selected coursework the opportunity to receive post-secondary credit for specified business/vocational and general education skills. Performance based competencies are used to measure the student's skill levels. Advanced standing will be approved by the post-secondary institution following evaluation of a student's portfolio. There is no charge for credit, if awarded. Transfer of articulated credit to other institutions is at the discretion of the receiving institution.

Students requesting articulation credit must:

1. Complete the initial four years of the approved Perkins Grant (Tech Prep) six-year course plan and receive a high school diploma.
2. Achieve an A or B in selected coursework.
3. Submit this completed application, competency checklist(s), six-year plan and high school transcript to Roane State Community College
4. Enroll at Roane State Community College or the Tennessee Technology Center within two years of high school graduation.

Instructions for High School Instructors

Signify by a check mark if the student can perform each competency at the 80 percent or above accuracy level. Sign your name and date attesting that the student possesses competencies checked.
